APPARENT VIOLATION

On June 3, 2020, I received an alert from the monitoring agency indicating the defendant's strap had been tampered with on his location monitoring transmitter. During a June 3, 2020 telephone conversation with the defendant's father, he reported he had advised the defendant "to leave his residence since he has been having unauthorized visitors at his residence." He indicated the defendant removed his location monitoring transmitter prior to leaving his residence. Attempts to contact the defendant on his cellular telephone on June 3, 2020 around 11:00 pm were unsuccessful. His cellular telephone currently goes straight to his voice mail message. His current whereabouts are unknown.

ADJUSTMENT TO SUPERVISION

Reference is made to the Notice of Apparent Violation submitted on March 5, 2020 in which the defendant did not follow his location monitoring schedule. Based on the defendant removing his location monitoring transmitter and the fact his current whereabouts are unknown, his adjustment to supervision is described as poor. The defendant satisfactorily participated in mental health treatment at Eva Life Giver. All urine specimens have tested negative.

A criminal record check conducted on June 4, 2020 did not reveal any new criminal record or outstanding warrants for the defendant.

RECOMMENDATION

I respectfully recommend a warrant be issued.
